

Professor David Fleming

Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic)

Professor Fleming is responsible for all academic matters. This includes academic quality, taught programmes/courses, research/research degrees, academic quality assurance processes, technology transfer and outreach activities.

Professor Fleming was formerly Dean of the School of the Built Environment at Northumbria University. Prior to this he was employed at Nottingham Trent University as a Senior Lecturer and Principal Lecturer; and in professional practice and the commercial sector before that with Bass Leisure PLC, Nottingham, Jones Lang Wootton, Sydney, and Pannon Pacific Consultants PTY Ltd, Tokyo.

Professor Fleming holds a BSc in Urban Land Economics, a Postgraduate Diploma in Facilities Management, an MBA and a DBA.

He is a Fellow of the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors.