

Dr Robert Bedson

Dr Bedson worked as a teacher and University tutor with a degree and PhD in physics before moving into project management. He currently works for BT as a senior IT project manager and has managed large projects overseas. He volunteered as a non executive director with a large local Housing Association for several years and has recently joined the Board at Northumberland College to share his passion for education.